Pei is a sound artist and culture coordinator focusing on both conceptual and practical aspects of open culture community in the fields of soundscape listening, digital culture, transdisciplinary art and science, and experimental education. She holds MFA in Digital Art from Valand School of Art, Gothenburg University, Sweden. Her work received Honorary Mention in Digital Music from Ars Electronica, Linz Austria. As a sound artist, her work involves field-recording, improvisational soundscape and acosmatic art. Pei creates interactive installations and audiovisual works. She has composed for theatre, contemporary dance and animation. She is interested to experiment with interchangeable vocabulary between sound, language, and visual art, aiming at materialising the immateriality. In 2015, her son Niels Zhi-Yu Philo Hoffmann was born in water. (English CV after Mandarin)
